

Quotes blocks (and citations)

The quote style allows you to place a block of text as shown below.

Widely considered one of the finest poets currently writing in the English language, he has won numerous awards for his work including the Hawthornden Prize and the Whitbread Award, and is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Literature and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

“ If Oxford is to remain a world-leading university, it needs the understanding and support of the community. ”

- Professor Andrew Hamilton,
Vice-Chancellor

These work best if placed so that they fit within a paragraph of text. It is best not to place them across multiple paragraphs.

First type in the text you wish to be the quote in the wysiwyg editor in the body (or body – post content). Highlight this text and press the “Blockquote” button

Now place the cursor at the end of your line of text (just before the close speech marks), press return and type in the credit. Highlight this new text and press the “citations” button

Leave all the fields blank and press “Insert”.
